

The Iowa prohibition bill has passed both branches of the legislature, and will go into effect July 1.

Some one would counter a favor upon the democratic party by putting a head on it. The tail is just now wagging the party.

General Pope wants to get away from the noise of trade and the bustle of commerce, and will make Milwaukee his home next year.

Governor Robinson, of Massachusetts, has designated Thursday, April 5, for a day of fasting and prayer in that state. The moral condition of Boston, makes such a day very appropriate.

Congress is just now engaged in trying to unload the treasury. If the mechanics and the workmen were certain of getting more of the money that is put in the public buildings than the contractors, the movement to "unload" would not be a bad one.

The Louisville Courier-Journal has this much to say on the subject of temperance: "The best way for women to encourage temperance is to stop marrying intemperate men." The best way to put down polygamy is for eight or ten women not to marry one man, but they insist on marrying him all the same.

The Hon. A. M. Thompson, formerly editor of the Gazette, and now in the editorial staff of the Chicago Journal, has been in New Orleans for some time and witnessed the Mardi Gras carnival. His impression of the city and a graphic description of the scene during the celebrated carnival, are given in the Journal of the 3d.

Bills authorizing the construction of public buildings in the following cities have been passed by the senate:

Canton, Tex.	$100,000
Waco, Tex.	100,000
San Antonio, Tex.	250,000
La Grange, Wis.	100,000
San Francisco, Cal.	500,000
New Albany, Ind.	100,000
Winnona, Minn.	100,000
Oskosh, Wis.	100,000
Fort Smith, Ark.	100,000
New City, Neb.	100,000
Fort Verde, Ariz.	100,000
Fort Scott, Kan.	100,000

Kansas sends a good practical farmer to congress. It would be well if there were more of them in the halls of national legislation. There would then be more work and less talk. An old fashioned farmer would not go to bed in the morning and breakfast in the noon. -Editor Gazette.

Very well put. They couldn't do less than congress generally does, and would be apt to do more in a shorter space of time. They would have sense enough to pass the appropriation bills, let the currency and tariff alone, and then go home and see the crops grow.

The proposition made by the Current to divide $1,000 among writers of short stories, according to merit (nothing to be paid for the prestige of a name), has met with a most extraordinary response. The offer closed March 1, and has given abundant demonstration of remarkable versatility and power on the part of a great number of hitherto unknown writers, while the fact is noteworthy that no one section of the country has contributed work superior to that of any other. A list of the accepted stories will appear in the Current by, or before, May 1.

A democratic paper, the New York Graphic, preaches the democratic short sermon: "It is believed by democrats like Mr. Dana that the democratic party must pursue the policy of cowardice which has characterized it for the past twenty years. The majority of the party were loyal to the union, but the leaders induced them to support the cause of the union in only a half-hearted way. The majority believe in tariff reform, but the leaders insist that they shall ignore the tariff question or stultify themselves by declaring for protection or no tariff at all. Let them go into the contest on such a platform and with candidates 70, 80 or 90 years old, and one of them already in the grave, and all will be well." So some of the democrats are getting their eyes opened at last to the blindness of their leaders. But the leaders will do just what the Graphic warns them not to do.

The alleged discovery of a diamond in Waukesha county is attracting much attention all over the country. One man who lives in New York, and who has had years of experience in prospecting in the diamond fields of Africa, writes to Mayor Stowell for particulars and wants to know whether the report of the discovery of a diamond is true or false. The inspector of the mines to the province of Canada also writes for similar information and says that letters are pouring upon him from all parts of Canada, containing inquiries regarding the diamond fields in Wisconsin, and desiring answers in his official capacity. The mayor replied in all cases that a diamond had been found at Eagle, and although there was no evidence to prove that it was not a "spasmotic" find, he informed the gentlemen that they were welcome to come here and investigate the matter themselves.

The Prohibitionist published in Milwaukee, made the special announcement a short time ago that its aim would be to elevate the morals of the people, and that nothing of a coarse or vulgar nature would be permitted in its columns. This promise was soon forgotten, for in a late number of the Prohibitionist appeared an article on how a young lady goes to bed. Every detail of that operation was minutely given that we might reasonably suppose that it originally came from the Police News or the Police Gazette. The only difference between one of the obscene illustrations in the Police News and the recent article in the Prohibitionist is that one illustrates by a drawing what the other describes by the use of type. Both are to be condemned, but the Police News is more honest than The Prohibitionist. The former does not profess to possess any moral character, while the latter makes a very high profession that its moral character is very high, and thus becomes a hypocrite, and a wolf in sheep's clothing. Of course The Prohibitionist can publish such badly sketches if it desires, but it would be well to heed this simple injunction—first be strictly moral, and then espouse the cause of prohibition.

THE MOB RULES.

Al Georgia Town Tank Possession of by an Angry Crowd.

Which Releases a Prisoner and Pardon the Streets in Triumph.

Whisky Adds to the Woe.

ALBANY, N.Y., March 5.—The ringing of bells and beating of drums by the drum corps of the Albany Guards, called the members of that company to their hall, and rumors at once circulated of a negro rising throughout the country. Less than ten minutes men were in line, fully uniformed and armed, when Capt. Woolfolk read to them an order from Governor McDonald to proceed at once to Alabama, in that state, and to place themselves under the control of Mayor J. H. Kirby to aid the civil authority in the enforcement of the law. This announcement caused a good deal of excitement, though of a different kind caused by the first rumor. The drum corps was suspended and crowds of citizens gathered around the county hall, which the company was quartered awaiting instructions to move. It was found that the supply of ammunition was insufficient, and telegrams were sent to Albany, where a supply was sent by special train, which was expected here at 6 o'clock p. m. Agent Wolfe, of the Brunswick & Western railroad, has put a special train on the track which is ready to steam out as soon as the ammunition arrives.

A telegram received by Capt. Woolfolk at 8 p. m. from Mayor Kirby at Alabama, says that though intense excitement prevails, no attack is expected until daylight. Rumors of a negro rising under the leadership of Capt. Woolfolk under the impression that it is a negro rising with which the place is threatened. The rumors which have reached here of the real cause of the trouble are very vague. A telegram was sent to Governor McDonald by Mayor Kirby, announcing that the civil authorities had been overthrown by a mob and were unable to suppress it, and asked for military assistance. The Albany Guards, being the nearest company to the scene of the trouble, were at once ordered to move.

The best that can be made out of the rumors is that a man by the name of Nelson was under trial in the committing court for some criminal offense, and that the citizens generally sympathized with him. When it was found that the prisoner would be sent to jail by the magistrate the excited citizens surrounded the prisoner, knocked the constables down and discharged them, and paraded the streets with the released prisoner in the lead, and daded the mayor and other good citizens in authority, who implored submission to law. As whisky soon began to turn the rioters in a drunken mob, women and children crowded to look themselves indoors for protection. Some of the drunken men made threats of arson, these threats being directed especially against the magistrates. As night approached the situation became more alarming, and several street encounters compelled the mayor to make an appeal for aid. Whether the negroes are on one side and the whites on the other cannot be so clearly stated, though the impression is that the rioters are mainly colored. Great numbers of negroes are here from North Carolina at work in the turpentine forests. They are riotous and as much lated by the natives of their own race as by the whites. They have no money in the county, and are always ready for trouble.

A dispatch received here at 5:45 to the effect that the mob is making unearthly demonstrations in Alabama, and that the worst is feared.

The City of Columbus Verdict.

DONOR, March 5.—The official report of the United States steamboat inspectors on the wreck of the City of Columbus rendered to United States Inspector George H. Starbuck, of New York, declares that the steamer was fitted up according to law, and excellent in all her appointments; that she struck the larger boiler which lies ten or twelve feet from her starboard bow and passed on to take bottom further ahead. The backing of the ship was a fatal mistake. The inspectors declare that the steamer could only have gone where she was out of her course, by bad steering, and say the evidence is conclusive that there was no pilot on duty from the time Capt. Wright went below till the ship struck, as the pilot-house windows were closed. The captain assumed the duties of both master and pilot, and there was no legal pilot on board; that at least one hour before she struck the captain was not at the post of duty, the pilot attending to the actual duties, and as master, and for illegally delegating the performance of the duties of pilot to others not authorized, and for inattention to his duties as pilot, his license as master and pilot is revoked.

News from Sumkin.

SEAR, March 5.—Gen. Graham has issued a proclamation declaring that the object of the expedition has been successfully achieved, and that the force at Tokar may now retire to the coast in safety. He praises the conduct of all the men of his command and congratulates them upon their victory over the stubborn fanatics.

Admiral Hewitt has sent word to Malindi that he must come to Sumkin with his followers immediately, or he will be regarded as belonging to the enemy. Malindi Ali is the chief who seemed friendly to the English before the fall of Suakin, and tried to penetrate the lines of the besiegers and revictual the garrisons of Suakin and Malindi. His alleged, however, has wavered according to the prospects of success on either side.

Low Tide at New York.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Another extraordinary low tide marked the flowing of the waters surrounding New York, and the ferry boat hands had a hard time of it in landing vehicles from the boats. The bridges were so low that the decline to the boats was very steep, and often required from twenty to thirty persons to assist the horses to drag their vehicles from the deck of the boats to the landing.

Jay Hubbell Likes Logan but Prefers Arthur—The Congressional Democratic Committee—New York Independents—Notes.

CHICAGO, March 5.—The Hon. J. Hubbell, of Houghton, Mich., has just returned from New York, and at the Grand Pacific said that people were as much at sea in the east about presidential candidates as they are in the west. "I still adhere to my opinion that President Arthur is as available a candidate as we can find. A number of people are mentioning Logan's name, but the question is, can we elect him? It seems to me that it is almost too much of a question to go to pick up a presidential race. I saw an interview in The Tribune with Mr. Arthur, of New York, in which he spoke of the large independent vote in New York, amounting perhaps to 75,000, and able to throw the electoral vote of the state one way or the other, as it might suit him. This doubtless is true, and we have got to pick up a man who can catch this vote or we are beaten. It does not seem to me that Senator Logan is such a man. President Arthur has reflected credit on himself and the country by his administration. He is conservative, and will suit the business classes, from whom this very independent vote is largely drawn. From what I read and what I have heard I have no doubt there is a thorough understanding between Logan and Blaine about the nomination. Logan will go for it, and Blaine will help him. If he cannot make it, then he transfers his forces to Blaine, and the man of Maine enters the arena. Both may be badly disappointed before the game is over."

Democratic Politics.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Democratic campaign congressional committee held a meeting at the Arlington hotel and selected the following executive committee: Senator Sherman, of Maryland, chairman; Representative Fessenden, of Pennsylvania, secretary, and Senators Garland, of Arkansas, and Kennan, of West Virginia, and Representatives Stockton, of Indiana, Treasurer, of California; Faigo, of Ohio; Stevens, of New York; and Murphy, of Iowa, members. The executive committee held a meeting immediately after being selected and appointed Senators Sherman and Garland and Representative Stockton a sub-committee on documents, and Representative Stockton, Senator Kennan and Representative Stockton a committee on finance. The question of selecting members of the campaign congressional committee for the states and territories not represented by Democrats in congress was deferred, pending correspondence with the chairman of each state and territorial committee. During the meeting the question of the release of the tariff was discussed, and was not discussed as was the tariff. The executive committee then adjourned to next Saturday. The executive committee selected is composed of five gentlemen, who during the speakership contest, supported the Hon. Charles F. Smith, a tariff Democrat, and four who favored Mr. Carlisle's election, and may be called revenue reformers.

Lincoln for Vice President.

NEW YORK, March 5.—A Washington dispatch says: Three or four weeks ago Robert Lincoln thought he could keep out of the political arena. But lately there has been developed so much feeling in his favor for second position on the ticket that he has been almost involuntarily brought into the political arena. It is almost the universal opinion of leading Republicans that if an eastern man is nominated Lincoln will certainly have the second place.

Ohio Prohibitionists Gathering.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 5.—The prohibition party is the first to hold its convention in Ohio this year, and already delegates are arriving to be in time for the meeting on Thursday. The object of the convention is to elect delegates to the National Prohibition convention, which is to be held at Pittsburgh May 1. It is not probable that a state ticket will be put in the field at present, but the annual convention will be called later in the season for that purpose. The Scott law and various bills for its remediation which have been introduced in the legislature this season will come up for discussion. Prominent prohibitionists are to be in favor of retaining the Scott law in preference to any graded tax law that has been mentioned this winter.

Meeting of Independent Republicans.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The committee appointed by the State Memorial Independent Republicans held an adjourned meeting in The Evening Post building. There were present: Gen. Barlow, of New York; Harter, of New York; Alfred T. White, of New York; and others. David Albertson was appointed secretary to the committee and permanent headquarters were established at 150 Broadway. The principal business of the meeting was the discussion and adoption of a circular, which will be issued some time during the week and sent to the Republicans all over the country.

Colored Men for Arthur.

PITTSBURGH, March 5.—C. A. Smith (colored), an ex-member of the Alabama legislature and chairman of the executive committee which is arranging for a national convention of colored men, said: "The general feeling among colored people is that if an eastern man is nominated Lincoln will certainly have the second place. It is not right."

Kentucky Republicans.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 5.—The Republican state central committee have ordered a state convention for the selection of national delegates, to be held in Louisville May 1. There will be about 700 delegates in the state convention, and the committee instructs that they shall be sent without instructions. A resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the president to appoint George W. Denney, Jr., of Kentucky, governor of Dakota.

Randall Denies.

WASHINGTON, City, March 5.—Randall, formerly mayor of New York, has been appointed to the position of secretary of the Morrison tariff bill, and expressed his strong indignation at what he called the effort that had been made to read him out of the Democratic party.

New York Republicans.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The Republican state convention has chosen Utica as the place for holding the Republican convention on April 22.

WESTERN DAIRY CO.

Dealers in Hogan Butter, Fine $2.45 and Cents.

The case of the Hogan butter dealers mentioned in last evening's Gazette, was disposed of by the court imposing a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs, all amounting to $28.45. It appears that these individuals represented the Western Dairy company, of Chicago, who make a business of traveling through the country disposing of "butterine" wherever they can make a sale. In this city they misrepresented the goods, thereby giving the officers a chance to arrest them, which they were not slow to do. They represented that they were the proprietors of a large dairy near Elgin, and that their butter was first class. These individuals sold in this city, but were finally arrested by Marshal Hogan and Sheriff Harper, and when brought before the court, pleaded guilty, and paid the above fine and costs. They stated that a man of the Janesville dealers had been selling butterine as butter all winter, and that they had furnished it. This concern in Chicago manufactures from four to five tons per day, which sold in different parts of the country as genuine butter. After their release, and setting with one or two parties in the city who had been misled and purchased a quantity of their "butterine," these butterine sellers left for the north, taking a considerable quantity with them, and should they fall into the hands of our friend W. D. Howard, of Fort Atkinson, may the good people of that region have mercy on them, for we know that Howard will not.

All our dealers who have been approached, deny having had any butterine on sale this winter, denying the report made by the parties arrested; but it is a fact, that it has been sold in the city, and is the parties selling it now, that they are subject to a heavy fine for dealing in this fraudulent manner, it cannot be found on sale.

Still More About Tobacco.

To the Editor.

DEAR SIR: I notice in last evening's issue a communication from Mr. B. D. Rockwood in reply to Mr. Olson. I wish to notice through your columns one or two points where it is evident reference is made to myself. I entered this association at the personal solicitation of an esteemed local buyer, who stated the object to be a mutual benefit to both dealer and grower. I can well see how it can be made so, but fail to see anything of the kind in creating a rivalry or anything approaching it between a local dealer or one who simply buys for one who wants a few cases to ship to the small villages of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, or San Francisco. These eastern monopolists who have bought ninety-nine out of every one hundred cases ever raised here very bad fellows, to say the least, some of whom handle more every year than all the local dealers put together, and for a fact have paid five cents more per hundred this year, than any local dealer with whom I am acquainted. I leave this part of the subject with your readers to decide whether Mr. Olson and others are serving the cause of these eastern monopolists or the farmer, and pay a little attention to the very man who is ever to be championing commercial morality. This last statement is worse than the first. The word commercial covers a multitude of the basest frauds ever imposed on a credulous community. I stated at the outset that no commercial man could favor with me, but phosphate of lime (or bone). I mentioned every word of the communication read by Mr. Rowe; some of the facts stated came under my personal observation. Guano is a commercial manure not fit to raise tobacco, but very useful for some purposes. If the object sought to be attained is the question in hand, let me confine ourselves to a fair, open discussion. If another, it would be mainly to say so.

Yours truly,

M. H. Seymour.

To the Editor.

"Oak Leaf" reply to Mr. Eldredge's communication: "Can a horse be built in this latitude on such an angle that the sun will shine on all sides of it every day of the year? If so low far north can such a house be built?" tells him to place the house so that the corners would be north and south and east and west, the sun would shine on two sides during the forenoon and on the opposite side during the afternoon, and we think on the top side at the same time, providing it was not cloudy. Now, as you say, "Oak Leaf" did not answer Mr. Eldredge's question in full, but merely says, "the sun shines on the four angled sides regardless of top, bottom and inside. Oak Leaf should have told Mr. Eldredge that he could not, in this latitude, build such a house farther north than the north line of his doorway, (providing he owns no land north of the said doorway), and that he could warm the inside and bottom side of said house by going to Mr. J. Griffith's store and get the loan of a "Budget" stove, that will make his house to shine in every part, from the pantry to his stomach, and reflecting outward will cause no more dread of being kicked out of bed on a cold floor to make fires when the thermometer is forty degrees below zero; all is peace and quiet, as you do not have to place the Budget on an angle to get breakfast, so there is no time lost. Hoping all is well that ends well, I will remain,

Sincerely,
